Requesting a Panopto Recording

Taylor Kahny - 2022-07-14 - Panopto

For most students, having the ability to re-watch course lectures after the fact is incredibly beneficial. If content is difficult to understand or loaded with complex medical terminology, students can pause the lecture at different points to meet their learning needs. With this concept in mind, faculty can create and manage their video content using Panopto, a video platform that integrates with Canvas.

If you plan on using Panopto to record a lecture, you'll first have to request a recording. To do this, access the Academic Event Recording Scheduling Form here: <https://www.isc-cts.upenn.edu/recording/request1.asp>. You'll be asked to provide instructor and full course information.

Some classrooms at Penn have special capabilities that allow you to have your class sessions automatically recorded. The Auditorium and Rooms 203, 213, and 218 use Panopto:

In the Fagin Hall Auditorium and 218, you can record with audio and slide options only, as these rooms don't enable video.

In 203 and 213, you can record video and audio along with slides.

Wondering how to reserve these rooms?

Email registration@nursing.upenn.edu your requests.

Once the video recording occurs, your recordings will automatically be posted in your Class Recordings tab in Canvas:

The screenshot shows the Canvas LMS interface for the course 'NURS 500 2018C Introduction To Principles And Methods Of Epidemiology'. The 'Class Recordings' tab is selected in the left sidebar. The main content area displays a list of recorded lectures with the following details:

Thumbnail	Title	Duration	Time Ago
	NURS 500 Experimental Studies: Part 1	13:03	2 days ago
	NURS 500 Experimental Studies: Part 2	10:44	2 days ago
	NURS 500 Measures of Disease Association: Part 3	5:52	9 days ago
	NURS 500 Measures of Disease Association: Part 2	11:20	9 days ago
	NURS 500 Measures of Disease Association: Part 1	9:53	9 days ago

If you want to record in rooms other than the four mentioned above, contact servicedesk@nursing.upenn.edu. The service desk can help you utilize other recording options, such as BlueJeans or the Panopto Desktop Recorder.
